

Tourism in the district of Wolsztyn

District Wolsztyn is located in the western part of a province called Greater Poland, in the borderland of Lake District Poznańskie i Lubuskie.

Wolsztyn is situated 70 km from Poznań, and 60 km from Zielona Góra. The western border is close, therefore the closeness considerably facilitates the contact with the whole Europe. The motorway A2 starts circa 30 km from Wolsztyn. Slightly closer, in Babimost, there is an airport from which you can get to all major cities in Poland. The most vital element of the communication network is the trunk road – number 32 - from Poznań to Zielona Góra, which connects the trunk road number 5 Poznań – Wrocław with the trunk road number 3 Szczecin - Zielona Góra.

The town Wolsztyn – both the district town and the main centre of the district, the registered office of urban – rural district, the town is the local development centre which characterizes industry and service development.

The former urban planning layout, the location on the isthmus of two lakes (Wolsztyńskie i Berzyńskie), attractive nature and landscape qualities determine the solid base of tourism and recreation on the district premises. Numerous district resorts, bathing beaches, forests plenty of mushrooms and reserves make this place marvelous for resting, sightseeing trips and sports camps.

The district Wolsztyn located at the western border of our province is a perfect picture of Greater Poland which welcomes both domestic and foreign tourists with a slogan “Wolsztyn at its full steam...”

The surroundings take pride in varied flora, engaging animal world and numerous natural monuments. The uniqueness of the area is a moor called “Chorzemińskie Swamp,” which is a nature reserve.

Both attractive nature and landscape qualities in combination with valuable architectural monuments have been the base of tourism and recreation development within the municipality for many years.

Those willing to admire the qualities of our landscape have at their disposal:

- tourist accommodation with over 1500 beds, including 300 places in hotels, moreover 300 places at camping sites,
- several dozen of catering establishments offering over 1000 seats.

Our tourist offer also includes:

- bathing beaches at lakes: Wolsztyńskie, Berzyńskie, Rudno and Krutla in Obra,
- hiking and bike paths, worth mentioning is “The Crane Route,”
- indoor swimming pool which consists of three separate pools, the biggest one is 25-metre-long, there is also sauna and fitness,
- Sports Facilities belonging to Sports and Recreation Centre: a football stadium with a running track, complex tartan surface of jumps and throwing area, a tennis court, a sauna, a gym and a hotel,

Places worth visiting

„The Steam Engine Depot” in Wolsztyn – it has been opened for over 100 years where one can see an old steam locomotive which sets off on a tour. There are about 20 steam locomotives in various series. We pride in “The Beautiful Helena” – a polish steam locomotive Pm36-2 which was honoured with a gold medal at the International Fair in Paris. Every year in May Wolsztyn becomes the home of many thousands of Steam Engine Lovers who arrive in Wolsztyn to see the spectacular event which is called “The Parade of Steam Engines”

“Marcin Rożek Museum” – a famous sculptor who used to live and create in the thirties of XX century. The house where you can admire the works of the artist was built according to his invention. The house includes sculptural and painting workshops, also a garden which is decorated with the works of the artist. In 1968 the local authorities of Wolsztyn opened the museum of its name on the basis of private work collection which belonged to Marcin Rożek’s sister – Jadwiga. In the interior, which is typical of the thirties, one can find a permanent exposition which is devoted to Marcin Rożek’s life and work. Two rooms are allotted for temporary exhibitions.

“Robert Koch Museum” – is located on the ground floor of a building where Robert Koch used to live. Not only are the mementos of the great scientist exhibited here, which are the remains of his life in Wolsztyn, but also those ones from other countries where he conducted his research. Stylish furniture and display cases together with the photos and the copies of his documents clearly depict the spirit of that period of time under what conditions Robert Koch used to work.

Open-air Ethnographic Museum of Folk Construction of Western Greater Poland – located at the west shore of Wolsztyńskie Lake. That area encompasses 3,5 ha where buildings and exhibit items derive from the borderline of two areas, that is Greater Poland and Lubuskie Region. There are a dozen of rural architecture buildings, among others; a tavern, a homestead, a well, also a wonderful working windmill called “Koźlak” from Wroniawy whose the oldest element come from 1603. The collection of the museum also includes equipment, tools and other objects which were used by inhabitants to lead everyday life in a homestead. The open air museum is a place of numerous folk events.

The church dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary immaculately conceived - the late baroque, it was built in the years 1767-1779, partially rebuilt in 1925. The interior of the church is a place where one can admire sail vault covered with rococo polychrome where the biblical themes are depicted, also both baroque and rococo altars are worth seeing which date back to the period of building the church. The late baroque belfry is situated on the south-east side of the church which dates from the second half of XVIII century. Within the alcove a sandstone sculpture dating from 1934 which depicts “The Crucifixion” is placed, it is the work of Edward Przymuszała’s chisel, who was Marcin Rożek’s pupil.

The park covers the area of 17 ha, located at Wolsztyńskie Lake. Many monumental trees grow here, that is a Japanese maidenhair tree, a Canadian poplar, oaks and beech trees. Visitors' attention attracts a neoclassical palace, which was built by the Mycielski family. The palace was burnt in 1945, then rebuilt in 1960-1962 intended for a tourist house.

Cistercian Church and Monastery – there is a monastery complex dating from the XVIII century just a few kilometers from Wolsztyn. In 1926 the monastery was given into the hands of Oblate Missionaries of the Blessed Virgin Mary who intended it for Seminary College. The monastery has been serving as a Seminary up to this day. Visitors can see a baroque church dating from 1722, a crypt where Cistercian monks were buried, Seminary College, Missionary Museum which shows interesting exhibit items from missionary countries, the Treasury, and nearby visitors find a small wooden church of St. Valentine from 1719.
